

1. When selling or hiring video tapes, DVD's and some computer games they often bear an age restriction. People under certain ages cannot purchase/hire such goods when they bear a BBFC classification. What are the ages that apply?
 - A. 12,15,18
 - B. 15,18,21
 - C. 10,15,20
2. Who can be held liable for supplying a classified video recording to a person under the specified age?
 - A. The business owner and/or the employee
 - B. The Company that produced the video recording
 - C. The business owner only
3. What is the maximum penalty for selling or hiring an age restricted video, tape, DVD or computer game bearing the BBFC classification to a young person below the legal age limit listed for the product?
 - A. £100
 - B. £1000
 - C. £5000, and up to 6 months imprisonment
4. Games manufacturers sometimes place recommended suitable age restrictions on their products. What notice should you take of these recommendations ?
 - A. Make sure you know your store's policy on these recommendations
 - B. Pay no attention to the recommendation
 - C. Sell anything to anyone to make a profit
5. You sell newspapers and magazines that often contain a free DVD or computer game. What should you do before selling the publication to a young person?
 - A. The magazine is not age restricted, it can be sold to anyone
 - B. It's only a magazine and free DVD/game, no harm can be done to anyone
 - C. Check the free item is not age restricted